ABOUT US :

SNM Medway is a Logistics firm based in and around South East London. Our mission is to partner with online retailers in meeting their requirements to deliver their products safely, on time, with a specific focus on customers services to the online retailers, private and commercial customers. We are a fairly new company to the market but does not mean we did not hit the ground running.

Our first business launched in July 2020 with Amazon Delivery Last Mile. Within the last year we have now got teams working at DHL and DPD. The modern milk man is our services which deliveries food & beverages to customers on an overnight schedule. We started off with 4 drivers within the last two years we now hire over 150 drivers.

We are all about people! We believe that resourcing a diverse and talented workforce is key to our success, we value each and every one of our team. Our growth and success is down to our great working relationship with all our drivers.

WHY WORK FOR US?

If you are looking to work within a diverse, flexible and fun company with room to grow and challenge yourself you are in the right place! Here at SNM Medway Logistics we base ourselves around flexible working hours to suit your schedule, across our fleets we offer, night, day and weekend work with the option to work as many days as you like. It's easy to start up with us, we offer vans for hire on a weekly basis which you will be able to take home or if you are looking to have a van provided with insurance and fuel at no extra cost then look no further we have got you covered.

We love seeing people progress and reach their full potential, there are always opportunities for advancements within the company and across all our teams, we will always make sure you have all the training and support you require. We know you will love it here just as much as we do.
